Campaigning mum to keep up the pressure

■ PLEASE HELP ME: School road safety campaigner Claire Lawrence is appealing for more support to ensure Devon County Council sticks to its pledge

PLANNING DELAY FOR SCHOOL FOOTPATH

AN AXMINSTER woman has triggered the next phase of her road safety campaign after a planning application was delayed.

Devon County Council says the project is still in line with the timetable, but Claire Lawrence is not convinced.

Clair says that people approaching Stoney Lane via the footpath running alongside Axe Valley Community College's sports field risk being hit by cars when checking if it is safe to cross.

She says she has had two close calls herself when taking her son to Axminster Primary School.

Devon County Council has confirmed that the plan is to remove part the hedge along Stoney Lane and create a footpath.

Clair launched a petition for a temporary lollipop person last autumn, and attracted 256 signatures.

The petition was apparently lost or mislaid by officials in County Hall, but Claire kept on campaigning.

A lollipop person never materialised despite money for infrastructure being found and the search for a volunteer having a promising start.

Clair's second petition was for a definite footpath completion date, which amassed 265 signatures.

It also generated a letter, dated March 14th, from a County Hall highways officer, saying: "I am able to confirm that a planning application for the scheme is being prepared for submission in April 2012.

"Subject to planning approval, and the completion of the legal agreement with the community college, it is planned to construct the scheme during August 2012."

Small delay

But the planning application was not submitted in April, and a county council spokesperson said: "There has been a small delay in applying for planning permission, but we are hopeful this will be submitted in the next couple of weeks, so we are still on track for construction in August time."

Clair said: "It has been going on for so many years. The delay is expected.

"There is always something that is going to come up, which is why I'm on the next phase of the campaign."

She has taken to handing out fliers headlined "Please Help Me", asking members of the public to either phone a particular highways officer or visit the county council's weekly highways surgery in Axminster and demand a progress report.

Clair distributed 180 fliers on Wednesday of last week and said: "The more of us that enquire, the more chance we have of this actually being completed."

SPORTS DIGEST

Self steps down as Tigers' boss

AXMINSTER Town manager Ray Self is stepping down from his position at the helm of the South-West Peninsula League Division One (East) outfit.

Long-serving club stalwart Self replaced the previous management team of Kevin Turner and Nick Ogden at the end of last season but couldn't lift the team out of the lower reaches of the Division One.

Axminster had a tough time in the season that is all-but completed, winning just two of their 32 league matches and occupying the bottom spot for much of the campaign.

But there are sure to be exciting times ahead. The club will be ground sharing with Ottery St Mary at their Washbrook Meadow Ground while a £2M purpose-built facility on Chard Road is prepared in time for the 2013-14 season.

Self will however continue in his role as chairman/treasurer of the Tigers over the busy period, and he said: "We, as a club, are testing the waters to see who is out there, and would be interested - we will be exploring all options that arise."

AXMINSTER

Mum campaigns for county action

AN AXMINSTER woman has triggered the next phase of her road safety campaign after a planning application was delayed.

Devon County Council says the project is still in line with the timetable, but Clair Lawrence is not convinced.

Clair says that people approaching Stoney Lane via the footpath running alongside Axe Valley Community College's sports field risk being hit by cars when checking if it is safe to cross.

She says she has had two close calls herself when taking her son to Axminster Primary School.

Devon County Council has confirmed that the plan is to remove part of the hedge along Stoney Lane and create a footpath.

Clair launched a petition for a temporary lollipop person last autumn, and attracted 256 signatures.

SEATON

Portas fund bid

SEATON has applied for £99,000 of what is known as Portas money from the government.

If successful, the money will be used to help revitalise the High Street and support local businesses.

The Minister for Local Government, Grant Shapps, announced that towns across the UK could bid to become 'Portas Pilot Towns' in February.

A total of 12 towns are set to receive a share of £1million, as well as the support of the minister, Whitehall and retail adviser Mary Portas, who carried out a review into the future of the nation's high street for the Government last year.

The successful applicants will be announced at the end of this month.

From the editor's chair Sheer Dad's Army...

MY favourite comedy programme is "Dad's Army" despite the fact it first hit our television screens in 1968 with the last episode made in 1977.

Scripted by the brilliant Jimmy Perry and David Croft, the BBC series following the chaotic fortunes of the Walmington-on-Sea Home Guard regularly attracted audiences of 18 million and is still repeated worldwide.

The comic timing of actors such as Arthur Lowe and John Le Mesurier has never been surpassed and the cult sit-com puts many of today's so-called comic offerings to shame.

I couldn't help thinking about "Dad's Army" when I received a letter from retired farmer Bill Short from Alston, near Chardstock.

He wrote in to say how pleased he was that we had started Mr Pulman's Days Gone By nostalgia page and recalled how, as a nine-year-old he watched a "surprise attack" by Hawkchurch Home Guard on their counterparts from Chard-stock and All Saints. The "Captain Mainwaring" role was definitely played by local schoolmaster Major Batten, complete with his officer's pistol. Sheer "Dad's Army"!

Keep your memories for our nostalgia page rolling in. They make fascinating reading.

Highlight of my reporting week was a visit to Beer on Saturday evening to see former parish council chairman John Wells being given the Freedom of the village, much deserved I must say. More on this in my "Editor at Large" column on page 17.

No elections in East Devon last week (apart from Colyton Parish Council) but this week the good citizens of Honiton are going to the polls to vote on whether they want a community centre.

It's generated a very lively postpage (see Your Views on page 11) and we will bring you the result of the parish poll in next week's issue.

COLYTON

New councillor

COLYFORD resident Peter Gibbins has been elected to fill a vacancy on Colyton Parish Council.

Mr Gibbins won the seat in Thursday's bye-election, beating candidate Andrew Jarman with 518 votes to 271 with a 31 per cent turnout of electors.

This is the first time that semi-retired sheep farmer Peter, 68, has stood for council. He lives in Colyford with his wife, Janice.

Mr Gibbins said: "I have lived in the local area my whole life and I thought perhaps I could put a bit back into the community."

"I just want to help out and I don't mind doing jobs around the town."

"Thanks very much to everyone who voted for me and I will try to do the best I can."

A seat opened on Colyton Parish Council when Paul Arnott resigned in February, citing a "litany of issues", including late agenda distribution, as his reasons for stepping down.

BEER

First Freeman

BEER Parish Council has appointed its first Freeman of the village.

The honour was bestowed on former parish council chairman John Wells at a special gathering of friends and community representatives at the Mariner's Hall on Saturday evening.

Mr Wells, who served as parish council chairman for ten years, received an inscribed citation and a goblett made from Beer stone with a piece of Beer flint in the top from Beer Quarry Caves, made by Mr John Scott.

OTTERY St MARY

Council spin job is 'scandalous'

OTTERY St Mary district councillor Roger Giles has joined the calls for East Devon District Council to ditch plans to appoint a communications and reputations manager.

Some claim that 'spin doctor' (salary £33,000 to £37,000) would be a more appropriate title for the job, and Independent councillor Mr Giles, who represents the town ward, says the appointment would be a "scandalous waste of money".

Those opposing the plan won a battle in persuading members of EDDC's Cabinet to examine the job description of the proposed communications and reputation manager with the recommendations being reported to Cabinet to enable the decision to be referred to the July meeting of council.

Councillor Giles said: "I think it is a scandalous waste of money when a large number of people are struggling and have lost jobs. EDDC substantially cut services and then, out of the blue, this proposal comes up."

DUNKESWELL

Power to the people

DUNKESWELL Parish Council is aiming to increase its influence through The Localism Act.

The council has applied to have the whole parish designated as a neighbourhood area which, if approved, would see the council play a much bigger part in the planning process.

It is understood that Dunkeswell Parish Council is the first in East Devon to have made a formal application to East Devon District Council (EDDC).

Under The Localism Act, town and parish councils can produce a neighbourhood plan and then formally apply for consent to designate an area to be covered by the plan.

Double success for marathon girl Cheryl

By Anders Larsson

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

FORMER Pulman's View employee Cheryl Dinneen's maiden marathon was a double triumph as she exceeded both her fundraising and time targets.

Cheryl wanted to spend no more than four and a half hours running this year's London Marathon and she aimed to raise at least £1,500 for Sense, a charity supporting deafblind people.

The self-confessed running addict crossed the finishing line after four hours, 21 minutes and 40 seconds.

Even though she beat her time target, there was a sense of disappointment as she had hoped to come a bit closer to the four-hour mark.

Cheryl, who is a former Millwey Rise resident and eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Nick Tregale, said: "4:21.40 was a little slower than I had hoped for but it took a few miles to get up to pace and get into a rhythm due to the sheer volume of runners."

She was very happy about the fundraising element, though, saying: To date I have raised just over £1,600 for my charity, Sense, so I am exceeding my target by a long way, which I am really pleased with."

Terrifying

It proved to be a stern physical challenge, and Cheryl praised the crowd for keeping her going.

She said: "For the first 19 miles I felt very comfortable and relaxed, the race was all going very smoothly.

"But as the saying goes, I hit the wall. All of a sudden I felt in a lot of pain and realised that I still had a further 7 miles to go, which was terrifying.

"The day before I had sat in on a talk that Liz Yelling (elite GB marathon runner) gave about running a marathon and her words rang in my ears; 'pain is inevitable, but you just have to suck it up and keep going'.

"So I dug deep and just kept on running.

"I focused on getting to different points around the course like seeing my family and friends at mile 22 and running up the Mall to the all-important finish line.

"Another major factor that kept me motivated was the crowd as they really do get behind you and cheer you the whole way which certainly gives you that extra buzz to keep on going.

"I decided that there was no way I was going to give up unless my legs gave way beneath me!

"I found the whole experience extremely amazing and very emotional.

■ MARATHON GIRL: Cheryl Dinneen is already looking forward to her next running challenge

"When you have worked so hard in training and for such a long time, when the day finally comes and you achieve your goal it is such an exhilarating feeling, one that is almost too hard to describe.

"The only thing I could think when I crossed the finish line wasn't how much I hurt or how exhausted I felt but I did it, I really did it."

The experience didn't scare her off, though, and there could be another marathon next year.

She said: "As mad as it sounds, running is very addictive and I think once you get the bug it is hard to shake it.

"So I am already looking to my next challenge and, yes, even considering running another marathon next year."

Millwey open day

MILLWEY Open Day provided a variety of activities from lessons in anatomy and first aid to a bouncy castle.

Staged by East Devon District Council's community development department, the event attracted residents of all ages to the Millwey Community Centre.

Fatal crash driver jailed

A DRIVER who blamed a near-fatal crash close to Axminster on a wasp sting has been jailed after a judge rejected his excuse as "literally incredible".

David Boyes, 22, claimed he lost consciousness before the horrific head-on crash because he had a delayed allergic reaction to a wasp sting six hours earlier.

He left victim Sarah Farquhar, a 24-year-old Axminster bank clerk, with life-threatening injuries after he drifted to the wrong side of the road and smashed into her car as she drove home from work.

The true cause of the crash was never established, but police found an iPod in the passenger footwell and believed Boyes took his eyes off the road to change tracks.

The crash happened on the A35 at Gammons Hill, Kilmington, near Axminster in July 2009 as Boyes was driving from a cricket tour in Weymouth to visit relations in Shaldon, South Devon.

Boyes, of Lound Nook, Belper, Derbyshire, denied dangerous driving but was convicted by a jury at Exeter Crown Court in February.

The jury found him guilty and Boyes was jailed for 14 months by Judge Phillip Wassall.

Miss Farquhar sat through the court case in February but chose not to be present for the sentencing.

Union to meet Carpets' bosses

Legion honour Poppy collectors

TEN Poppy Appeal collectors with a combined service time of 150 years have been honoured for their services to the Royal British Legion.

They received special awards at a ceremony organised by the Axminster branch of the Royal British Legion at Cloakham Lawn Sports Centre.

Branch chairman David Warner addressed those present by saying: "We are gathered here tonight to honour some of the army of people who work on behalf of The Royal British Legion every year come hell or high water collecting for the Poppy Appeal."

He also announced that the Axminster branch's total appeal collection for last year stood at just over £11,900, with more to come.

Mr Warner added: "This is a remarkable achievement which would not be attained without the collectors."

"Tonight we will be acknowledging their efforts with a token from the Legion recognising them."

The ten collectors (pictured above with branch officials) honoured were: Sue Hunt, Shirley Paris, Rosemary Fell, Audrey Lanchbury, Frank Johnson, Jennifer Johnson (all 10 years of collecting), Ken Brake, John Vanderwolfe (both 15 years), Reg Hale and Eunice Beer (both 30 years).

AXMINSTER Carpets bosses and union officials will meet tomorrow (Wednesday) for what the Community Union calls "a collective grievance hearing" about reduced working hours.

The union has also announced it is in the process of applying for statutory recognition at Axminster Carpets through the Central Arbitration Committee.

The company, however, says it intends to further improve its direct communication with employees and does not believe that formal recognition is what the majority of its workforce wants.

Reduced working hours were introduced earlier this year and Community says that shift workers lose about nine hours for every two-week period.

Community caters for a wide range of workers, including textile workers, and brought its deputy general

By Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

secretary, Joe Mann MBE, to Axminster for a members' meeting in the town's Guildhall on Saturday.

Community campaign manager Lorraine Gaskell said that about 40 members attended.

She did not wish to say exactly what the union aims to achieve during the meeting tomorrow but said the fact that the meeting would take place was "a step forward".

Prior to the meeting, Axminster Carpets issued a statement through Samantha Mickleburgh, who is the director of customer services and human resources, saying: "As mentioned previously, Axminster Carpets has a strong history of negotiating, informing and meeting directly with its employees over the past 75 years and it is our intention to continue and further improve on this. We firmly believe that the involvement of the union has been brought about directly as a result of the recent requirement for short-time working.

"Furthermore, we believe that a move towards formal recognition and subsequent collective agreement negotiation is not what the majority of our employees wish to pursue."

She also confirmed that members of the company's executive main board have volunteered to take "meaningful" pay reductions to help share the pain of some of the tough decisions being made.

Lorraine Gaskell has previously described Community's membership at Axminster Carpets as "significant", but has not revealed an exact figure.

She said, however, that the wish of the workforce will be assessed independently by the Central Arbitration Committee.

A TEENAGER was stopped by police in Axminster for driving in an inconsiderate or careless manner and issued with a Section 59 warning.

The warning is valid for a year and means the driver's vehicle will be confiscated if there is a repeat.

The 18-year-old was stopped in Lyme Road at about 8pm on Saturday, April 28th.

AXMINSTER police have urged people in general and the vulnerable, in particular, to be cautious if approached by people offering to do garden jobs or similar work.

Two elderly people have reported that people knocked on their doors on Wednesday, April 25th.

Both householders became suspicious and declined the offer.

PCSO Andy Trott advised anyone approached to get a quote and then check with someone they trust. PCSO Trott added: "If they [the trusted people] are not sure, speak to us."

THE fact that inclement weather forced World Tai Chi Day celebrations indoors in Axminster didn't dampen spirits.

Allan Howlings of ABC Tai Chi had planned the celebration outside Axminster Arts Café on Saturday, April 28th.

But it was decided to use the Senior Citizens' Centre next door instead, to good effect.

Mr Howling's two hour session attracted more than ten people and he said: "It was very light-hearted and they got a very good idea of tai chi. Everyone just had fun."

Firm plants tree in town for Earth Day

■ PLANTING IT: Xylem's general manager in Axminster, Duncan Lewis, plants a tree with the help of Axminster mayor Andrew Moulding. Water pump specialist Xylem, formerly Lowara, is growing a tree at its Axminster site in aid of Earth Day. The planting took place on Friday, April 27th ably handled by the company's general manager in Axminster, Duncan Lewis, and the town's mayor, Andrew Moulding. In addition, employees were given the means to order the planting of a tree each in one of 16 countries.

Carpet dilemma: delivery to France

AXMINSTER Twinners are trying to solve a logistical problem involving a carpet.

A 34-strong Axminster Twinning Association (ATA) party will travel to French twin town Douvres la Delivrande on Thursday, May 17th.

Their French hosts have bought a replica of a Thomas Whitty carpet and the plan was that the Brits would take it on the coach.

But it has emerged that the carpet is too big to take on the coach. The carpet will be used in a medieval barn, which has been recently restored.

ATA chairman Caroline Hillyard revealed the problem to Pulman's View, and said: "We are looking to find a transport solution."

The Axminster delegation will be joined by 45 Germans from Douvres's other twin town, Oerlenbach.

Last year saw 41 French people visit Axminster over a weekend in June.

This year it is the Axminster twinners who will travel, and it promises to be a busy weekend. For example, there will be a big parade through the French town, to include Kilmington man Brian Young on bagpipes.

The busy schedule also includes a concert, a civic reception, sightseeing, visits to the D-Day landing beaches and much more.

Another sought-after treat is the French kitchen. Caroline said: "We love the food, they feed us very well."

Anyone interested in joining the association can call Caroline on 01297 344 97 or download a leaflet online at axminsterc.files.wordpress.com/2011/06/axminster-twinning-association_0001.pdf.

■ WATER Aid is £250 better off after a generous donation from Axminster and Uplyme Trefoil Guild. Guild members raised the money through a coffee morning and collections.

Water Aid provides access to safe water and sanitation in the world's poorest communities. The cheque was presented to Neil Whiter, who reciprocated by giving a presentation of the charity's work to guild members. Located in the delightful seaside town of Exmouth, Rose Lodge is the perfect place for people living with Dementia to experience the highest quality of life.

Caring for someone with dementia yourself can be tiring and often very distressing. Coping with someone whom you may have known and loved for years but who may now often fail to recognise you can be desperately upsetting and difficult to deal with.

Rose Lodge is an active and social home. We have found that people with dementia are generally happier when they are supported to be as active and independent as possible. Our weekly activities programme includes gardening, live music, drama, singing, crafts, a pub quiz, rambling, art, and trips out, as well as individual occupational activities.

So, moving into a home like Rose Lodge is the perfect way for you to give your loved one the best quality of life. In our 2011 relatives survey, all relatives agreed that Rose Lodge offers an excellent quality of care and that their loved one's wellbeing has improved significantly since they joined Rose Lodge. All of them said they would recommend Rose Lodge to their friends.

We offer DAY CARE, RESPIRE CARE and RESIDENTIAL CARE and free trial days.

Fundraising morning to help vulnerable children

HOT drinks and cakes aplenty were on offer when The Children's Society held a coffee morning in Axminster on Thursday.

The Church Rooms were busy as soon as the door opened at 8.30am, and money raised will help to care for vulnerable children.

For example, the society has centres in Seaton and Honiton which are part of a national network where disadvantaged, sad and vulnerable children are helped to find their self-respect again.

Pedallers find water at chest height

LAST week's floods caused Axe Valley Pedaller's regular Wednesday cyclists to pause for a moment of doubt before plunging into water which had already caused cars and Land Rovers to be abandoned near Axminster.

Water came up over the wheel hubs and feet were fully submerged, but bicycles remained upright as the riders pressed on to their finishing destination at Axminster Arts Cafe.

One of the cyclists said: "The flooded Axe Valley was at its most picturesque for a truly unforgettable ride.

"However, we did have to take the signposted diversionary route for the Stopline cycle path under the Axminster bypass, as the water was at chest height."

The contemporary concert was held at Methodist Church where many went through the doors to enjoy the choir's uplifting performance.

As the choir performed, donations for the charity poured in as the audience joined in the songs and clapped away to the music.

A favourite on the night was the upbeat 'God Gives His Children A Song' where the audience enjoyed the entertaining number.

Members of the Gospel Choir would like to thank the many who came along to attend the concert to support Christian Aid, who raise funds for some of the world's poorest people.

Portas money for Seaton?

By Anders Larsson

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

SEATON has applied for £99,000 of what is known as Portas money from the government.

If successful, the money will be used to help revitalise the High Street and support local businesses.

The Minister for Local Government, Grant Shapps, announced that towns across the UK could bid to become 'Portas Pilot Towns' in February. A total of 12 towns are set to receive a share of £1million, as well as the support of the minister, Whitehall and retail adviser Mary Portas, who carried out a review into the future of the nation's high street for the Government last year.

A statement circulated by town councillor Heather Sanham described how the application came to fruition, saying: "Seaton Town Council agreed to contract Heidi Hallam, the business development officer who has been working in Seaton since January with the chamber of commerce and East Devon District Council (EDDC).

"In true Seaton fashion, the community pulled together and in less than a month they had drawn up their bid and put their video on YouTube.

Heidi said: "There is a real buzz in the town and we now need to

Peco's Jubilee limited edition

A LIMITED edition model railway wagon has been produced by Pecorama to commemorate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

Only a small run of around 100 'quality line model railway wagons' have been produced with the jubilee design and to make them extra special, each one is individually numbered adding to their collectible appeal.

The specially produced wagons have been manufactured locally in Beer and at the Peco site and as a special gift from the company, the first produced wagon has been sent to the Queen herself.

Sales Manager for Pecorama, Steve Haynes is pleased with the special wagons and believes they will be a popular souvenir during the jubilee celebrations.

He said: "made in celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of her majesty the queen, only a small amount of model railway wagons have been created at peco so only a limited amount are available to purchase.

"It is an honour for the company to send off the number one edition of the wagons created to the Queen as a special gift.

"We hope that the special commemorative wagon will appeal both to our regular model railway enthusiasts and to general fans of the royal family as a jubilee souvenir."

PECO sales manager, Steve Haynes holds up the specially produced model railway wagon, made in celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee build on this work. People want to know more about our application and how Seaton is going to develop its own "town team", a key feature from the Portas Review."

It was unanimously agreed that the focus of the bid should be Seaton's unique natural heritage and the opportunities that this could create to enhance the visitor experience and increase footfall in the town centre.

Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick said: "The response from the community and businesses was amazing with letters of support for the application from our MP, shops and businesses, developers, landlords and community groups.

"The town council would like to thank everyone who contributed to the town's submission as it could not have been achieved without their help, particularly in the incredibly short timeframe allowed.

"A key part is to improve our seafront area and make more use of the opportunities on the beach and by sea.

"We are aiming to have a mobile jetty so that we can accept visiting boats bringing more visitors in to Seaton and help businesses who want to make this area more vibrant.

"We will also want to provide more support to local businesses - existing ones and those thinking of starting up.

"There is so much passion about Seaton. Our vision is a successful Seaton from sea to shops, linking past with present to future, working with business, community and the natural heritage. We hope we get to be a Portas Pilot Town, but if we don't, we are going to work our hardest to make Seaton the best we can."

The successful applicants will be announced at the end of this month. The YouTube video can be viewed at: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fAIg69VHT0U>

Grizzly organisers help home nursing service

THE Seaton and District Hospital League of Friends organisation will plough a five-figure sum into the hospital's home nursing service.

It became possible thanks to a £10,000 donation from the organisers of the annual Grizzly running event.

League of friends manager Lycia Moore said: "Dr Joe Pitt gratefully accepted the cheque for £10,000 on behalf of the league and explained that it would be used to contribute towards the cost of the home nursing service.

"This service is funded entirely by the league of friends and allows patients in the district who have life-limiting illnesses to be cared for by qualified nurses in their own homes, and also supports not only the patient but also the family if they do choose to die at home.

"The league would also like to thank the organising committee for all the hours of hard work they put into the event, making it such a success."

The presentation took place in Beer Social Club.

Branch scores high

STAFF at NatWest's Seaton branch are celebrating after coming top in a national survey about delivery of outstanding customer service.

The branch has beaten off strong competition from NatWest branches across the South of England to be recognised by customers as the best NatWest branch for delivering a high quality service.

Scores given by customers by means of a questionnaire, determine the result, and the staff at Seaton branch have come out on top across a wide range of factors including - politeness and knowledge shown by the staff; cleanliness of the branch, and time spent queuing.

Commenting on their success, Stuart Brady, manager of the bank's Seaton branch, said: "When you work so hard as a team to deliver a quality service, it's great to receive recognition from the bank, but it means so much more because it is our customers' comments that have put the branch in the top spot.

"We can't thank them enough for their positive feedback. It's great to know that the work we do to try to deliver outstanding customer service at all times, and bring our helpful banking pledge to life, is being recognised. We know that we're not perfect and that we still have a lot of work to do, but hopefully this shows that our customers think we are on the right track."

Celebrating spring at Bluebell Day

By Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedi.co.uk

DESPITE the cold weather, spring had definitely sprung in Colyton on Saturday, when many residents and local families toured Holyford Woods to see the abundant bluebells.

The village's annual Bluebell Day was based around the Holyford Woods Local Nature Reserve, run by East Devon District Council, and Horrford Farm, home of well-known residents Colin and Valerie Pady.

Mr and Mrs Pady opened up their garden for a number of stalls for wildlife charities, local crafts and homemade produce.

Visitors also enjoyed live music from local band Swing of the Axe.

In the woods a number of walks were held to show off the areas plants and wildlife and the district council's Countryside Service also held displays with information of other nature reserves and local wildlife.

Beviss and Beckingsale secures top accolade from national Law Society

Beviss and Beckingsale are proud to announce that the firm has secured the Law Society's coveted law management quality mark, LEXCEL.

LEXCEL is developed specifically for the legal profession and is an accreditation scheme for law firms which gives assurance that the firm meets high client care and business management standards. To gain and retain the LEXCEL quality mark the firm has to undergo a rigorous initial on site inspection then continuing annual assessments by independent trained LEXCEL assessors.

John Wotton, President of the Law Society of England and Wales, said: "Achieving the LEXCEL quality mark proves a serious commitment to the continual development of the firm's management standards. Firms opt to undertake the rigorous application and assessment process for this optional scheme to help demonstrate their investment in their business. By implementing policies, plans and procedures within LEXCEL's key areas, such as client service and risk management, firms can show the positive steps they are taking to help clients in the increasingly diverse, complicated and competitive legal market. LEXCEL acts as a beacon of quality to clients and potential clients alike."

Mark Ollier, partner at Beviss and Beckingsale said: "Whilst we are proud to have secured LEXCEL, it is our clients and staff who are the main beneficiaries. They can be assured that the way we manage the firm is efficient and has their interests at heart."

YOUR LETTER COULD WIN £10 VOUCHER

to spend at Archway Bookshop, Axminster

No sympathy for superstore

■ SO, Tesco is in trouble.

In our part of East Devon this company has managed to 'persuade' the local planners to allow them to open stores in Honiton, Axminster, Sidmouth, and Seaton – all towns within a short distance of each other.

To my mind these area takeover-tactics are self-defeating; and enough is enough.

I, for one, lament the consequent lack of competition that has resulted.

Indeed, petrol prices permitting, I am prepared to travel to shop at the other high-class competitive outlets; who should have been allowed to set up shop in this locality.

Thus, Tesco deserves to suffer the consequences.

Site not ideal but best there is, says chairman

■ I WRITE as chair of Honiton Town Council's Community Complex Project Group about the main objections voiced against the establishment of the complex: location and finance.

After exhaustive searches, the Dowell Street site is the only one that's both available and acquirable at little or no cost.

It isn't ideal – but it's much better than nearly all the other options. If we let this opportunity pass us by, we could lose over £800,000 EDDC are holding for us specifically for a community centre – plus the value of the Dowell Street site.

Interest rates now are very low; so we can borrow cheaply at a fixed rate. If we have to wait another year or more to acquire another site, we'll almost certainly be faced with higher interest rates as well as significant additional outlay on another site.

The project's business plan has been scrutinised by our own advisers, independent business consultants, EDDC officers and members, and the Government's Public Works Loan Board. It's been found to be financially sound, and it offers the prospect of generating a healthy surplus.

The average Honiton Town Council charge within the council tax for each household is just over £40 a year.

This is between £7.50 and £20 lower than in three other towns in East Devon, and also lower than in several villages.

We don't have to increase Honiton's charge on the council tax to help with either the construction or the running of the complex, and we don't plan to.

Even so, we'll give preferential hiring rates to Honiton-based organisations and private parties, and ticket discounts to Honiton residents.

I hope that with all that in mind Honiton council-tax payers will vote to move forward, rather than stand still.

Nick Cornwell
Honiton Town Council

Apologies to supporters for cancelling

■ THE Garden Fair Team 2012 apologise for any inconvenience caused by the cancellation of the Garden Fair in Colyford on Saturday, 28th April.

This was due to the poor weather we have had in the last month, with more rain forecast on the day, adding to the already saturated ground.

We would like to thank our loyal supporters over the years, and all the helpers involved with organising this year's event, and those prepared to help on the day, including students.

We look forward to holding the event next year under drier circumstances!

Why no choice to vote for affordable option of community complex?

STAR LETTER

£10 Archway Bookshop vouchers are on their way to your door...

■ THIS week we are able to vote 'yes' or 'no' to the Honiton Town Council community complex scheme for a second time.

It's a shame that there hasn't been a choice to vote for a more affordable option.

If you use your vote to say 'yes' to the scheme, the council will continue with their plans which will result in serious long term (40-50 years) financial difficulties for the town.

However, if you vote 'no' the council will still go ahead with these plans as they have already tried to ignore the first vote when the results were not in their favour.

If the last option becomes reality, we as a town, would have at least let our councillors know of our dissatisfaction and their blatant ignorance for residents' views.

An affordable option should be considered because, after all, community funding will still be in place for its original intended purpose.

Swallows return

THE swallows are back at last but there seems to be no regular pattern to their movements and while they dart in and out of the barn, the intervals are irregular with no pattern to their activity.

I suspect that the appalling weather is behind their capricious to-ing and fro-ing with a lack of insect life the prime cause. However, a reader, Keith Styles who works in Seaton, tells me that on April 28th he spotted a swift coming in off the sea at Branscombe and this will be of interest to the RSPB and Blackdown Hills AONB who have joined forces once again to ask the public to let them have sightings of swifts, swallows and house martins. If you would like to co-operate go to www.blackdownhillsaonb.org.uk for links to the bird survey.

Of interest, too, is the fact that my correspondent Keith Styles has just visited Seaton marsh for the first time and is enormously impressed with what he saw. It has, he writes, the potential to be the Minsmere of the South West. I heartily agree.

He also spotted a speckled wood butterfly last week, flying I imagine on one of the few days when it has not been raining. One has to wonder how on earth butterflies survive during days of cold constant rain, yet last Wednesday, when the sun shone, male orange tips were fluttering round the fields and hedgerows, seeking mates and I even saw a common blue in the garden.

One beneficiary of the rain has been my garden pond which is now brimming, much to the pleasure, I am sure, of the numerous smooth newts which can be seen doing whatever newts do and occasionally popping up to the surface for a gulp of air.

Gradually, the newly re-lined pond is acquiring its own wildlife and water-side plants and lilies are beginning to transform the stark outline.

A survey of garden ponds for wildlife this spring, undertaken by the Dorset Wildlife Trust, has highlighted the benefits to wildlife provided by pond-friendly gardeners.

The survey covered six very different privately owned ponds in an area near Shaftesbury and revealed over 30 species of wildlife, including newts, snails, freshwater shrimps and dragonfly and damselfly larvae, many of them having colonised the ponds without the knowledge of the owners.

It was shown in the survey that the pond with the most species was the one with the greatest variety of plants in and around the water. These should, of course, be native plants.

The organisers of the survey enjoin gardeners not to add fish to their ponds as these will destroy tadpoles, newt efts and other edible wildlife. Having previously had goldfish I know all too well the damage they can cause. However, a local heron solved the problem for me!

The pond survey was part of the DWT's Wildlife Friendly Garden Competition, sponsored by The Gardens Group, and which is open to all sizes of garden until May 18th. To enter your garden call 01305 264620.

On the following day, May 19th, the same Trust is celebrating Upton Heath, which suffered so badly from a deliberately raised fire last year, by discovering the history of the rare heathland and the wide range of wildlife which lives there.

The day will be devoted to the wildlife and also the people who made the heathlands so special over thousands of years. The day is free and the event takes place from 10am to 4pm. Visitors are asked to bring any photos relating to Upton Heath or to relate any stories which may be relevant to the area. Meet at Springdale Road car park, Corfe Mullen and for more information call 01202 692033.

DEREK Truesdale lives with his wife Gina in Sidmouth. After retiring from his role as a Local Government Building Inspector, Derek moved to the town from Newbury in Berkshire, and after being introduced to Sidmouth Conservative Club by friends during frequent visits to Sidmouth, became a member of the club. After being a member for many years, Derek became Chairman for the Club in 2010 and is supported by a hard working committee who help organise and run weekly events.

● HOW long has the club been in existence?

It started as the Sidmouth Constitution Club back in 1893 and affiliated to the Association of Conservative Clubs the following year. It has been at its present premises since 1909. The club is not directly linked with the divisional Conservative Association and thus, is not a political association and exists solely for the social entertainment of its members. There is a great atmosphere in the Club, which embraces people with many interests, from all walks of life. Whether you are a Sidmothian, or newcomers like ourselves, there is something to suit everyone.

● WHAT events and activities does the club hold?

We have a full programme throughout the week and have something for everyone. Our evening entertainments include, bingo, line dancing, ballroom and sequence dancing with tuition, the 'draw night' which consists of a prize draw for wine, spirits and meat, two money draws (the progressive draw has recently been won at a total of £970 and, at the present time, the Money Box draw total is £500), a fun quiz, and a Dance and Music night with a fish and chip meal at the beginning of the evening. There is also a live band every Saturday night to entertain its members and their guests. We have a snooker room with two superb tables where we have 'in club' competitions and the opportunity to play in league matches, plus a Euchre team who play on a Sunday evening. This team have been very successful, winning the League in 2011 and are currently runners up this year. They are always on the lookout for new players, so if you're interested, come along and join the club.

● DO you serve food at the club?

Yes, we have our own in-house catering. Meals are served from midday Tuesday through to Sunday, for which we have a regular clientele who enjoy freshly cooked lunches. We also have an excellent Sunday carvery. The bar is open daily where coffee is also served for members who can sit and chat and read the daily papers.

● CAN anyone hire out the premises?

Yes, membership is not required for the hire of the facilities. We have two rooms, one for small parties, meetings, etc, and will accommodate up to 35 people dependent on event type. Our large lounge with its dance floor and small stage can be used to celebrate larger events such as birthdays, anniversaries, etc. This room can accommodate up to 100 people. Our in-house caterers can provide light lunches, buffets and full meals for any of these events and, of course, full bar facilities are available at very competitive prices.

● IS THE club planning to do anything special for the Queen's Jubilee?

Yes, we are having an open day on Monday, June 4th where non-members will be able to come along. There will be entertainment throughout the afternoon in the car park with the local Sidmouth Jazz Band, everyone will be able to tap their feet, or for those bold enough, get up and dance. There will be tables and chairs arranged around the car parking area for those in attendance. The club's caterers will be putting on a barbecue and the bar will be open for all those in need of refreshments. There will also be stalls with tombola, guess the number of beans, and games to entertain the kids, etc. In the evening there will be a ticketed Jubilee Dance held in the lounge/ballroom, at a cost of just £2 per person. The money collected will be donated to Children's Hospice South West. This evening event will kick off at 8pm and basket meals will be available from 7pm, together with full bar facilities.

● DOES the club have other fund raising events?

We always have a designated local charity each year. Last year was in aid of the Sidmouth Lifeboat. On Saturday, October 13th this year, there will be a dedicated dance together with an auction for a charity yet to be named. We put together a number of items donated by local businesses in Sidmouth and also by our members, which will then be auctioned during the evening. The money raised will be given to the chosen charity. Also throughout the year, John and Sonia Davies who hold regular Wednesday dance evenings with tuition, charge the dancers £2.50 each, which all goes to local Sidmouth charities, so far raising some £7,000.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

THE Revd Judith Abbott from Axe Valley writes: On the last Saturday afternoon in April, Christopher Fletcher officially became the Archdeacon of Exeter and was duly installed with traditional ceremonies. He now has a senior role in the Diocese, and in East Devon we look to him as our main connection with the Bishops.

We pray that Archdeacon Christopher will be given strength and grace to deal with any antagonism that comes his way, and, the rituals enacted, we hope that he will settle happily into playing his part in a forward-looking church.

Regular events continue this month including, in Seaton, the Freedom Café - which will be open on Saturday, May 19th from 10:30am to 1:30pm, with free refreshments and good books.

Going west in Pulman's Country, the Otter Vale Mission Community with its ten parishes and 12 churches has started the process to appoint a new Team Rector to succeed The Revd Simon Franklin.

Back east to Colyton, and in early May the Branch Standard of the Women's Section of the local Royal British Legion Branch was received by the Rector for safekeeping in the Parish Church as the Branch is closing due to insufficient numbers.

The Legion continues with a Men's Section - which is also open to the Ladies. Enquiries to the Hon Secretary on 01297 553283.

Many of our local churches have lending libraries, mainly associated with church matters, where books are available (free) on loan. A recent addition at St Andrew's Church Colyton is a souvenir edition of 40 years of the Chaplaincy at Dubai, in the Gulf, which is linked with Honiton Deanery.

The book is extensively illustrated and records the work and worship of the Churches in that part of the Middle East where weekly congregations often total figures in thousands. Call 01404 45124 for more information.

Artist demonstrates collage method

WORKING with hot wax, dilute dyes and layers of different papers, artist Deborah Vallance held the members of Seaton and District Art Society riveted with her demonstration of creating paper batik collage pictures.

She amused and astonished them in turn, working quickly with wax and procion dyes applied to Japanese paper layered over premium acid-free tissue paper and newsprint – all of which would be later incorporated into a stunning painting of an amaryllis.

Her audience gasped when she suddenly scrunched the whole lot up tightly to wrinkle up the paper and break up the surface of the wax – before smoothing it out again and later ironing over it to ease the layers apart.

While she worked she told them that this method helps you to find your own creative voice. As she used the many sheets of tissue and newsprint to create the collage, she taught about the equipment and advised on possible snags.

The work is finished with gutta and sealed with watered-down pva glue which means it does not have to be put under glass.

Members cheered when chairman Fred Slater expressed everyone's delight.

Members were urged to collect their newsletters and details about the Pecorama exhibition by the society – which was held at the end of April when the magnificent gardens are open free to the public.

At the next meeting the society will enjoy learning about knife painting in acrylics from Cornish artist Michael Sanders.

Visitors and prospective new members are always welcome. Meeting are held at the Methodist Church Hall, Valley View, Seaton.

Moody skies and seas inspire Cobb paintings

DAVID Beckers from Lyme Regis gave the Axminster Art Society's April demonstration at Musbury Village Hall.

David Beckers' familiarity with the vast skies and moods of the sea and strength of the old Cobb are apparent in his paintings.

He paints this seascape so that you not only see it but feel the wind swirling in the clouds and note the light breaking through to flood the sea and beach, lighting up the different colours. His Cobb stands solid but the direction of the brush strokes he uses give three dimensional textures and tones indicating curves and shadows.

He uses a pallet knife to sculpture and give strength to the rocks. In his demonstration David gave us insights and directions on how to get these effects with different sized and shaped brushes and stroke applications. When to blend the still wet oils in the sky with a very soft brush to give movement and translucency and when to stop so that the drama is not lost.

He uses a restricted number of basic colours which he mixes both on the palette and on the canvas and warned that mixing too many colours together muddies the effect. He prepared his canvas with a pink wash which he uses in the first under painting to give warmth, colour and tone that changes as the painting develops.

The picture is painted in at least three stages adding more paint and colour and waiting some time for the paint to dry so that he can note the additions and changes he wants to make. Advice was given on the use of paint mixing mediums to achieve special effects and influence drying times.

He also demonstrated the invaluable technique of "brush ruling" where the ferrule is steadied on a ruler but the brush hairs can be directed to give a loose or fine straight movement.

He emphasised the directions and spacing of lines in the composition of the painting. Details on The Cobb and beach were just distinct enough to let the viewer's eye and brain fill them in, giving distance.

Members learnt a great deal and are looking forward to applying them in David's May workshop.

The next demonstration, on Wednesday, May 16th at 2:15 pm in Musbury Hall, is by Sian Dudley on flowers in watercolour.

■ SEATON and District Mens' Probus Club held its most recent meeting last month. It is a very friendly club which enjoys both social and business meetings. It is open to all retired professional and business men. Meetings are held at St Gregory's Church Hall, Seaton. The next season starts on Wednesday, October 3rd at 10am. For any further details, contact Keith West on 01297 624374. Probus members are pictured at the last meet of the season.

Tony talks on treasure ships

AT the March meeting of the Axminster Phoenix Ladies Club, guest speaker Tony Simpson, a retired lecturer, gave an informative talk on the Treasure Ships of China, 100 of which set sail in 1421 under the patronage of Emperor Zhu Di, one of the emperors of the Ming Dynasty.

Recalling Gavin Menzies' book entitled 1421, Tony explained how China was keen to undertake voyages of discovery and to share its knowledge with other countries.

Some of the treasure ships reached the Indian Ocean, Africa and reputedly, Australia and New Zealand but many were lost with all hands, including the concubines who entertained the crew.

An ostrich, giraffe and zebra were shipped back to China but there was no evidence of an elephant suffering the same fate.

However, as China used ivory extensively, and still does to this day, no doubt one did eventually make it to the emperor's private zoo in the Forbidden City.

Members were fascinated to learn that China's expertise with science and inventions predated Jesus's birth by between 500 and 1,000 years.

Items included the magnetic compass, paper, the first clock and woodblock printing (600 years before Caxton) and books; the emperor's library housed 2,000 books as opposed to 12 in Henry VIII's library.

Zhu Di was very keen to explore and advance China's knowledge in all spheres and was one of the few countries who did not colonise by force.

Some of their artefacts have been found in east Africa and off the Australian coast and they were reputed to have founded a settlement in north America.

Following destruction of the Forbidden City by forces of nature and the emperor's eventual demise, treasure ships which returned, and many did not, were left to rot in Chinese harbours.

A sad and untimely end to their exploration.

During Member's Time, which followed, Rotarian David Guy updated the ladies present on ShelterBox and received a cheque for £300 from Lesley Frankau, chairman, on behalf of the Phoenix Ladies Club towards the invaluable work undertaken by this charity.

David gave some fascinating information recounting 120,000 boxes have been sent out to assist 1,125 million people who have suffered from catastrophic disaster at a staggering cost of £500 million.

Haiti has received 28,000 ShelterBoxes and is still getting aid.

Currently Madagascar is benefiting from the tents many of which are used for hospital patients, following the recent devastating cyclone.

At the April meeting Peter Tinney was set to entertain members with more amusing anecdotes of his Somerset childhood.

New members and visitors always welcome.

The club meets at 2.30pm in the URC Hall, Chard Road, Axminster.

THE FIRST CHOICE - NOT THE LAST RESORT ...

NOSTALGIA THROUGH THE EYES OF PULMAN'S FOUNDER

The day Hawkchurch attacked Alston!

IT was the summer of 1943 and the war raged in North Africa leading up to the surrender of Italy.

Closer to home, a vicious battle also took place in the heart of Pulman's Country - at Alston, near Chardstock to be precise, described by one witness as "quite a vicious battle".

Members of the Hawkchurch Home Guard had crept along the hedges and banks to spring a surprise attack on their counterparts from 19 Division No 5 Paton Chardstock and All Saints Home Guard.

The scene was witnessed by one impressionable nine year-old - Bill Short, now 78 and living at Chubbs Farm in Alston, who recalls there was "quite a lot of noise".

Mr Chubb has written to Mr Pulman's Days

Gone By, saying how delighted he is to have a nostalgia page in the new-look Pulman's View.

And he enclosed the photograph (above, right) of the Chardstock and All Saints Home Guard, taken by Joan Murphy, shortly before the attack by Hawkchurch.

Mr Short remembers that the All Saints headmaster, Major Batten, was right in the thick of the battle with his officer's revolver, firing off blanks at the enemy from the next village.

Major Batten was a First World War veteran and is pictured in the centre of the front row of the photograph.

Other First World War veterans are in the picture, including Mr Short's father (front row, fourth from the right).

Mr Short writes:

"Major Batten was a good headmaster and made us boys very keen on vegetable gardening as it was war time. We had a school garden and most of us grew vegetables at home as well."

Mr Short adds that Major Batten only used the cane on rare occasions but "the threat was always there".

Mr Short has in his possession a number of Home Guard patrol log books from 1940-41 containing the names of many local people.

He lists the names of those in the photograph (with apologies to those who are missing). They included: J. Apsey, D. Eames, D. Goff, D. Chubb, J. Gilpin, R. Snell, T. Gigg, F. Biles, A. Fowler, D. Farrant, B. Larcombe, A. Harris, J. Potter, S. Pierce, R. Hutchings, E. Lewis, F. North, J. Matthews, J. Wheaton, T. Spurway, B. Brownell, N. Jones, C. Hull, A. Grinter and Bob Shears who, according to Mr Short, survived World War One because he was ordered to look after the horses and so avoided the front-line trenches where so many local men lost their lives.

Mr Pulman's DAYS GONE BY...

Can you name the boys?

■ FORMER Seaton resident Marian Bayle (nee Beeden), now living in Bracknell, returned to Pulman's Country recently and picked up a copy of Pulman's View to see what was happening in her former home town.

Marian sent in some old pics of Seaton taken in the 1950s together with the picture (right) of her and a friend Maureen and some boys whose names she can't remember. Does anyone recognise them?

Market memories...

FROM THE JIM ROWE COLLECTION | This photograph was taken in 1952 at the opening of the attested auction market at Axminster Cattle Market. Among those pictured are Mr D.F. Baker (third from the right), chairman of Axminster Rural Council, Mr E.K. Kirby, clerk to the council (second from the right) and local businessman Mr W.G. Gill. Also pictured are (from the left) Mr Bevan, Mr R.R. Willing and Mr S.L. Friend.

The first Freeman of Beer

ONE of the great pleasures of my job, travelling around the local towns and villages covering events, is to see at first hand just how much voluntary work goes into the community life of East Devon.

Prime Minister David Cameron thinks he has come up with a good idea with the "Big Society" but as you and I both know, it's been going on around these parts for many, many years.

I am constantly impressed with the commitment of a large army of volunteers who do so much to make life such a pleasure in this part of the world.

Every town and village has a community hero, someone who goes that extra mile and expects no recognition or reward.

Such a person over the years has been John Wells (pictured), who retired last year as chairman of Beer Parish Council after ten years in the job.

But John's service to his adopted village goes back to the mid-1970s and on Saturday, at a special gathering of friends and community representatives, a little bit of Beer history was made: John was installed as the village's very first Freeman in recognition of his outstanding service to the community over several decades.

Beer is one of those tight-knit communities where the whole village pulls together and John has been at the forefront of village life in many capacities since moving to East Devon from London.

His parish council chairman successor, Martin Richards,

EDITOR AT LARGE

explained that the position of Freeman was not just open to councillors but to anyone who had served the village with distinction. The parish council would not necessarily be offering the honour on a yearly basis, but as and when a deserved nomination was received.

It would be difficult to think of a more worthy recipient than John Wells for the first person to be chosen as a Freeman of Beer.

When you are made a Freeman of the City of London you are able to drive your sheep down Fleet Street.

I'm not sure whether John gets a similar privilege in Beer!

John led the parish council with great dignity for a decade, including hosting a visit from the Princess Royal to open the affordable housing at Short Furlong, and over the years has also been closely connected with the Beer Heritage Group, the RNLI and the annual Beer Regatta.

He was also greatly involved with the organisation that set up the village's Christmas lights scheme, the envy of many other communities in East Devon.

It's never a chore going to Beer so I popped over to the Mariners Hall for Saturday's ceremony where John received an inscribed citation and a unique Beer stone goblet containing some Beer flint, from Beer Quarry Caves, made by John Scott.

A touch of humour was brought to the proceedings when John was thanking the parish council for bestowing the honour on him, in his usual humble manner, when PC Steve Speariett and a colleague arrived late.

As the two Coppers came through the door, there were cries of "the stripper's arrived" and "get 'em off".

Beer Heritage Group also made a presentation to John - a Harry Hill face mask. Don't ask me what that was about!

I am all in favour of the award of such honours. People like John Wells - and I could name others in most towns and villages in East Devon - make our communities tick. They all deserve recognition.

Why the skittlers' big night runs so smoothly

IN my page three "From the Editor's Chair" piece in last week's Pulman's View, I mentioned that I had been to the annual presentation night of Axminster Skittles League, saying that it was always a pleasure to renew old sporting acquaintances at such events.

Axminster Skittles League is one of the best run in the area, and that is due in no small part to long-serving secretary Les Ellis. Les presides over the presentation night which always goes like clockwork - but there, Les has had a lot of experience.

He's been doing the job since I was a young reporter back in the late 1960s, an incredible record of service which I believe is unsurpassed anywhere else in the area.

Where would skittles in the Axminster area be without Les Ellis?

Axminster Garden Machinery

AXMINSTER Garden Machinery was formed in 1999 by Phil Roper who has worked in the horticultural industry as a garden machinery expert for some 32 years. AGM are a complete garden machinery business, who are main dealers for everything they sell which means they offer you the customer the complete package with something for everyone and full back up service and parts.

They personally carefully select every piece of machinery they sell and have used and tested all the machinery they offer. Axminster Garden Machinery have a large showroom and parts department, and a fully equipped workshop so you can actually view and handle virtually every type of machinery they supply. If you wish to try or demonstrate a particular machine out of hours, then a member of the team can meet you on site or open the show room for you at an arranged time. Ideally a site visit would be carried out especially when choosing perhaps ride-ons or larger equipment so that one of the team can see the garden or working area and give you some honest advice. AGM aim to know their customers needs and concerns have been met to give them quality, user-friendly equipment at the right price with a full service package, to make the maintenance of their garden a pleasurable experience.

Phil and the team at Axminster Garden Machinery are always on hand to help and have machinery to suit all budgets, so please call on: 01297 631186 or visit us at Unit 1A Weycroft Avenue Millwey Axminster.

The phenomenon everyone is talking about! - Learn the fun way!
Sing and Sign shows you how to help your baby communicate with you BEFORE speech.

It's easy!

Baby signing is wonderfully rewarding and fantastic fun. You will be amazed when you see what your baby is capable of telling you!
(From 6 months - 30 months)
www.singandsign.com

SARAH Glover is in her 7th year of teaching the award winning, Sing and Sign in East Devon. What started as a hobby has become a full time occupation, teaching around 115 families a week. She also employs a fantastic teacher, Bev Norman to share the workload. Bev teaches in Sidmouth and Topsham.

Sing and Sign teaches babies from 6 months old how to use signs to communicate before they can speak. They can then develop their vocabulary in Stage 2, when the signs can be used to support their speech development.

At Sing and Sign the parents learn the baby signs through the use of music and songs whilst the children enjoy the props, puppets and musical instruments. Together they learn over 170 signs in stage 1 alone.

Some children stay in the Sing and Sign programme for 2 years. It's wonderful to see them progress from tiny babies to fully fledged walking, talking toddlers who still enjoy singing and signing our songs!

We also offer free sessions at local children centres throughout the year.

If you would like details of the free sessions or classes in Honiton, Sidmouth, Top-sham or

Exeter, please email sarahglover@singandsign.co.uk or call her on 07788 445223.

Johnny Kingdom picks winning names for Escot's baby Indian Eagle Owls

AFTER receiving an overwhelming amount of suggestions for names for Escot's baby Indian Eagle Owls, Falconer Jonathan Marshall enlisted the help of a friend. TV's Johnny Kingdom was only too pleased to pick a winner out of the hat. The owls, now known as Charlie and Lavender, were happy to pose for a picture after meeting up with Johnny at his Exmoor home. Johnny said "They're not exactly what you'd called pretty, but they're beautiful all the same."

Congratulations go to five year-old Escot member Poppy Anstiss of Exeter who wins the prize of a falconry handling session at Escot with Jonathan.

The owls are growing extremely fast and are now flying in Escot's bird of prey displays. New for 2012, Escot have two birds of prey displays per day, with owls on show at 11.30am and hawks at 3.30pm. With otter feeding at 11am and 3pm and a red squirrel talk at 1pm, there's always something going on at Escot!

Culinary delights for all at Devon County Show

FOOD lovers looking for a real taste of the West Country should tuck into the Devon County Show held on May 17th to 19th at Westpoint, Exeter.

Sumptuous local dishes and delicious beverages from all corners of the region will be available to tantalise the taste buds at the huge county celebration.

"Here at the Show we can truly say that good food is for all," said Show Secretary Ollie Allen. "It's not the preserve of our top chefs, but is available to be eaten and enjoyed by everyone."

New this year is a Taste of the West food court serving snacks and light meals for visitors to enjoy while they are at the Show. Show organisers require all public catering contractors to source as much of their produce as possible locally.

In the popular food and drink marquee Show steward Celia Hyland and her team will be serving up plenty of cookery demonstrations using local ingredients.

This year the theme is simplicity. Celia said: "Simple food can be healthy and interesting to eat and very enjoyable. In these difficult times it's great to use cheaper cuts of meat which, with only a little bit of know-how, can be turned into a wonderful dish."

Each day there is a rolling programme of guest chefs with the gastro pub Jack in the Green providing demonstrations for Thursday, and Brend Hotels, with their executive chef Dez Turland, taking the stage on Friday. It's the turn of the Young Farmers on Saturday when they have a cook-off and take part in live butter and junket making competitions.

Inside the marquee are invited 'to taste and try before you buy' and because there is such a great selection of local producers all in the one place it makes shopping local and seasonal a real pleasure. There's local meat, vegetables, honey, cheeses and dairy products as well as puddings and pies, teas and cordials and preserves and ice-creams, to name but a few.

Elsewhere on the showground, Darts Farm Teepees are showcasing local food and drink through a series of workshops, demonstrations and tastings with some of the finest artisan producers, chefs and culinary experts.

Over the three days there will be cookery demonstrations headed by celebrity chef Michael Caines MBE and a special appearance from BBC Countryfile's Adam Henson. Children can get involved in workshops, pizza making, cupcake decorating, sensory perception challenges and have the opportunity to become a Mini Darts Farmer, where children can start their own mini vegetable patch to take home.

Elsewhere on the showground the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will perform their popular musical ride twice a day and will be available meet visitors between performances.

The three days are a packed celebration of the great British countryside and a terrific day out, too. There's magnificent livestock, wonderful food and drink, inspiring flower and garden displays, marvellous crafts, a huge country life area, trade stands offering a wealth of goods, and lots of traditional entertainment in six arenas.

Up to three children (5-15) are admitted free with each paying adult on Saturday.

Artisans in the East Devon & Blackdown Hills Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty Open Weekend on Saturday & Sunday, 12 & 13 May 2012 A Unique Experience for all the family

ON Saturday and Sunday 12th and 13th May 2012 across the East Devon and Blackdown Hills Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty, forges will be firing up, weaving and spinning machines and potters wheels will be flying, when the second annual Artisans' trail opens to give visitors a unique experience.

Thirty two businesses in this glorious corner of the West Country will welcome local people and visitors to take a peep behind the doors of their studios, workshops and kitchens to see how they use their skills and creativity to make and deliver unique products and services that have become part of the identity of the area.

Val Baker, of the Blackdown Hills Business Association and organiser of this event said, "our local craftsmen will open their doors to you from 10am to 4pm on both days. We will also be highlighting a number of galleries and local attractions in towns and villages in East Devon that host their own exhibitions for local artisans and artists throughout the year.

There is a wealth of creative talent tucked away in this beautiful landscape. Come and see our artisans baking bread, making glass or try your hand at turning a pot on a potter's wheel!

Enjoy learning about and sampling specialist food and drink made by our producers from some of the best local ingredients. These include creamy local cheeses, smoked troutpâté, Devon salami, chorizo and dry cured meats, wines and ciders.

You will also find a master saddler, soft furnishings maker, furniture restorer and upholsterer on the trail.

Val Baker further said, "come and see them at work; sample their produce; quiz them; admire their talent and skill; try your hand at some of the activities; even buy from them!

There is a new 2012 guide of Blackdown Hills and East Devon Artisans which includes over 40 businesses. Alternatively, you can visit the Blackdown Hills Directory at:

www.blackdown-hills.co.uk.

We know you will be amazed at what you discover tucked away in the Blackdown Hills and East Devon Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty – just follow the signs.

David Lloyd Cabinet Maker

MY name is David Lloyd. I have been a cabinet maker since 1995. My workshop is in Dukeswell, within the beautiful Blackdown Hills AONB. What do I make? Well, almost anything in wood!

Bespoke kitchens to wardrobes, bathrooms to windows, staircases to grandfather clocks, tables, chairs, four poster beds – to name a few. Designs are agreed with the client after discussing needs, specifications and any foibles or special features they may require.

Bespoke furniture making permits freedom of design and choice of material to suit all tastes and budgets.

I am passionate about using English timber for my commissions, for example I am currently using Ash from Offwell for drawer components. The more local the better!

However I will use timber from overseas if the job requires it or you would like to use it.

Do you have a tree that you would like me to convert into furniture for you?

I am taking part in the 'Artisans Trail' on 12th & 13th May, so would be happy to see you at my workshop even if you just fancy a cuppa and a chat about wood. You can call me on 01404 891800 or please visit my website for further information and to view my portfolio.

Jacqui Dankworth opens Honiton Festival season

THE Honiton Festival 2012 previews on Thursday, May 10th with a reception and performance by The Callino Quartet.

Winners of numerous international prizes, Callino gave their Carnegie Hall debut in March at the invitation of The Kronos Quartet. They take their name from the Irish air "Cailin cois Suir a me" meaning Girl by the River Suir. The Callino Quartet will perform Haydn's quartet Op.76 No.3 "Emperor"; Ravel's String Quartet; and Schubert's quartet in D minor "Death and the Maiden".

The Callino Quartet are followed by Jacqui Dankworth on Saturday, May 12th in the first of the season's festival concerts at St Paul's Church, Honiton.

Honiton is honoured to welcome this illustrious talent. Jacqui Dankworth is best described as an imaginative, moving, and adventurous vocalist, blending jazz, blues, and folk in her unique sound. Already established as one of the country's leading jazz vocalists, Jacqui's live concerts showcase her sublime versatility as well as her acute sensibility as a songwriter and lyricist.

Jacqui Dankworth

Jacqui's most recent album, 'It Happens Quietly' features arrangements and performances by her father, the late Sir John Dankworth.

The Callino Quartet play at Cotleigh Parish Church on Thursday, May 10th from 7.30pm. Tickets cost £17.50-£12. Jacqui Dankworth will be in concert at St Paul's Church, Honiton on Saturday, May 12th from 7.30pm, and tickets cost £15-£9. SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICE Eden Garden Developments

EDEN Garden Developments make finding a contractor simple by providing for all clients' Garden Design, Construction & Care requirements, large and small locally. The Design & Build unit of A1 Environmental Services, offers a friendly, professional, integrated service.

Installing all types of Fencing, Gates and Decking, Walling and Patios, Eden offers a complete landscaping service including Lawns Horticulture and Aquatics, either as a package or in affordable stages.

A timely example, given the present gusty conditions, is fencing where this can either be repaired or replaced, depending upon condition and the budget available. This can be either post and panel, close board, post and rail or picket fencing and Eden also supply and fit gates (see insets). In fact "cost leadership" is at the forefront of the business whilst keeping quality and the principles of design paramount.

Business founder, designer and artisan craftsman Norman Brown holds an MSc. in Environmental Planning & Management and has contributed to books, periodicals and the gardening press. Further information can be obtained by calling 01297 23596 (mobile 07977 415446) or visiting the web pages at a1-environmental.com

Mazda's aftersales service is geared up for SKYACTIV technology

- Mazda approved bodyshops are equipped to repair high-tensile steel
- Lightweight SKYACTIV-Body delivers less wear on brakes and tyres
- Mazda's 'fix it right first time' policy continues

WITH the launch of the all-new Mazda CX-5 imminent – featuring for the first time on a production model, Mazda's innovative SKYACTIV technology – Mazda Authorised Repairers are geared up for the new technology.

Aftersales Director David Wilson-Green said: "The key benefit for customers is the high level of confidence and reassurance in Mazda franchised aftersales service, because the foundation for SKYACTIV technology is optimising existing standard technology – internal combustion and lightweight engineering – while delivering customer savings through excellent fuel economy and low emissions, without compromising on performance. Dealers have the knowledge to service and repair cars without any heavy investment in training and equipment.

"Servicing costs will continue to be highly competitive and parts pricing will offer our customers great value during the whole ownership period. Service intervals also stay the same at 12,500 miles/annually.

"Similarly, in the unfortunate event of an accident, our network of approved bodyshops is tooled up for repairing high-tensile steel featured in the body of the CX-5. Through the use of this newly developed SKYACTIV body structure and a larger proportion of high-tensile steel – the proportion has grown from 40 to 60 percent – the weight of the car is reduced by 8 per cent while increasing the strength. The benefit is that lighter cars also mean less wear on brakes and tyres.

"Our proven track record of fixing customers cars right first time will be maintained because SKYACTIV technology doesn't reinvent the wheel. Customers can have absolute confidence in their Mazda dealer to deliver great service and exceptional value through every year they own their Mazda," concludes Wilson-Green.

Good Foundations

TO all my passed pupils, (quite a few I think!) I would like to thank you all for the pleasure in being able to teach you all to drive, and I am sure you will agree that my teaching standards were very high, (and still are!)

As a matter of interest I often wonder how many of you have gone on to improve your driving skills, I know a few of you have gone on to become top drivers in your given careers, such as Police drivers, one I know of became a Police Driving Instructor, Ambulance drivers, Bus and Heavy goods drivers, and one of my passed pupils now drives a tank for the British Army, a far cry from my little 1.5D Renault Clio!

For those of you that have not been driving long, I wish you all the best. And to keep trying to improve your driving skills, and maybe reduce your insurance premiums by thinking about more advance driving courses. Pass plus is always a good way to start, you can also save fuel cost by improving your Eco driving skills.

PLEASE FEEL FREE TO CONTACT ME, I would love to hear from you (email is best). Thank you all again, best wishes and happy safe motoring!

Polo R line: adding more style to the substance

VOLKSWAGEN is adding even more style to its popular supermini, with the launch of the Polo R Line, which builds on the impressive specification of the Polo Match with unique styling touches inside and out.

On the outside, the R Line is distinguished by a unique styling pack. This consists of deeper, sportier R Line front and rear bumpers, a black gloss radiator grille with R Line badging, deeper side sills and 16-inch 'Mallory' alloy wheels. From the B-pillars back, the glass is dark-tinted and 65 per cent light-absorbing, while the standard front foglights also include a static cornering function.

Step past the brushed aluminium scuff plates with R Line logos, and inside there are sports seats with 'Kyalami' cloth upholstery and an R Line logo on the headrests, along with a leather-trimmed three-spoke steering wheel with R Line logo and aluminium-capped pedals, while the roof lining is finished in black cloth.

Standard equipment is comprehensive, including an RCD 310 radio/CD player with six speakers and multi-device interface, for plugging in an iPod or other compatible device, 'Climatic' semi-automatic air conditioning, a multifunction trip computer, electric windows (including in the rear on five-door models), height-adjustable front seats, a split-folding rear-seat backrest, electrically operated and heated door mirrors, illuminated vanity mirrors, front and rear reading lights, a tyre pressure monitor and, of course, remote central locking.

The R Line is available with just one engine, the existing 1.2-litre 105 PS TSI petrol unit, with a six-speed manual gearbox. This engine propels the Polo R Line from zero to 62 mph in 9.7 seconds, and on to a top speed of 118 mph. Fuel consumption is 53.3 mpg on the combined cycle, and CO2 emissions are 124 g/km.

Prices start at £15,195 on the road for the three-door model, rising to £15,815 for the five-door. The Polo R Line is available to order at Volkswagen Retailers now, with first deliveries expected in July.

For more information visit www.volkswagen.co.uk.

Feniton promoted back to Premier : Colyton hopes still alive

SOUTH WEST PENINSULA LEAGUE
LIVERTON 7 SIDMOUTH TOWN 0
SIDMOUTH Town played their final game of a long, hard season away at champions Liverton. This was always going to be their sternest test.

Town survived a few scares in the opening 20 minutes, but couldn't keep possession and the hosts were able to control the game.

The deadlock was broken in the 25th minute when the home side took the lead and doubled their advantage soon after to lead 2-0 at the break.

Liverton really applied the pressure after the interval and romped to a 7-0 win.

Sidmouth Manager Paddy Thomas was realistic in his summary, he said: "Liverton are worthy champions, they play good passing football, have experienced players who can hurt you in terms of passing, movement, communication and the will to win."

"We didn't get the basics right - if you give the ball away continually to any side in this league you will be punished."

"Our aim at the start of the season was to retain our place in the league and we have achieved this, with no budget - the majority of teams in this league pay players."

"We have to try and keep the players we have and add some experience to the squad as Ottery St Mary and Axminster Town, who both finished below us, will be stronger next year."

"I'd like to thank Simon Hudson, Jason Stiling and Jason Margrett for their hard work and Geoff West our ever reliable minibus driver."

MIDWEEK NEWS

SEATON Town's hopes of clinging on to the top spot in the Premier Division finally ended on Wednesday evening.

Long-time title rivals St Martins surged up on the rails and sneaked home by a nose after thrashing Newtown 4-0.

There was better news from Feniton where the Blues secured their place in next season's premier division with a 5-0 drubbing of Cullompton Rangers.

Andy Hawkins (2), Elliott Dyer, Paul Dowling and Ben Allen made up the Fenny nap-hand.

DIVISION TWO
COLYTON 3 HONITON Tn 1

The visit of Honiton Town to The Peace Memorial Playing Fields saw Colyton make four changes to the team that beat Exeter University on Wednesday night.

Oli Tollerfield and Gary Sims were recalled to the starting XI at the expense of Jedd Feldman and Simon McClellan.

James Salter and Richard Tratt were unavailable but Chris Platts and Jason Potter returned to the squad.

Colyton got off to a good start without really creating any clear-cut opportunities.

The best chance came after Cal Somers forced the keeper into a mistake, which left Tollerfield with an open goal from 30 yards. But his effort was tamely struck, allowing the keeper to return to the goal to make a comfortable save.

Honiton picked up their game and forced a corner, and would have taken the lead had it not been for a goal-line clearance from Marc Potter.

Colyton took the lead when Somers found Nath Maddocks who lifted the ball over the 'keeper. The hosts doubled their lead when another Somers pass breached the Honiton backline, this time finding left-back Michael Cullum who rounded the keeper before tucking the ball into the back of the net.

The Tanners thought they'd added a third on the stroke of half-time but a header from Maddocks was ruled out for offside.

The second-half got underway and Colyton struggled to find their momentum but couldn't believe their luck when a stonewall penalty wasn't given after Maddocks was felled in the box.

To make things worse Honiton then pulled a goal back when a fine cross found the unmarked Sam Farmer, who slotted coolly past Kris Reid.

The hosts sealed the win when Somers tapped-in after the visiting 'keeper misjudged a Maddox cross.

Honiton had a penalty shout turned down in injury time but Colyton held on to claim the points and another three tomorrow against Pinhoe would see a very interesting last week of the season. Michael Cullum claimed the Colyton Man-of-the-Match award (sponsored by Ducky's Beach Cafe).

hill climb Wiscombe Park

WHILST the weather ravaged the south west , drivers at Saturday's first hill climb of the season at Wiscombe Park battled not only with the rain and high winds but also different levels of adhesion from the track following a total re-surface of the course.

The morning practice runs of the Woolbridge Motor Club organised meeting showed that the new tarmac surface was yielding good levels of grip.

But this was not to be maintained as the grip levels were to deteriorate during the morning as competitors dragged debris onto the track as a result of short cutting the first left hand bend at Wis.

This was not to be a problem for Axminster driver Lee Moore who took his Citroen AX from second place at the completion of first timed runs into the premier position in the up to 1400cc division of the Road Going Series Production Car class.

Early leader Matthew Searle, in his turbo diesel Volkswagen Lupo, could not match the speed of the window cleaner and eventually finished over 1.5 seconds in arrears.

The Modified Specialist Production Car class saw Weymouth's Geoff Blake trailing the Ginetta G33 of Graham Beale on the first of the practice runs.

Unfortunately the reigning Wiscombe Young Driver Champion was unable to take the battle to Beale when, with his father Graham at the wheel, the Westfield SEi left the track and smote the crash barriers at Bunny's Leap.

Fortunately Blake senior was un-injured in the incident but the same cannot be said for the car.

Other local drivers to experience problems were Haley Thorne and Colin Pook.

Pook took the first run in the car when the belt to the oil pump broke sidelining the Pilbeam MP43 sports racer and requiring a trip back to Frampton to substitute the Westfield.

Haley Throne took a fifth in class with the car she has campaigned for the last two seasons . Colin Pook however moved over to share the driving duties with Rod Thorne in the single-seater Pilbeam MP58.

The challenging conditions were far from ideal if you were making your debut in a new car, as was Ottery St Mary driver Ed Hollier in his Pilbeam MP62in the afternoon.

Having posted the fastest time in the first practice session a spin followed but second place was achieved in the afternoon with the win being secured by previous Wiscombe champion and OMS SF1100M pilot Mike Lee.

Reigning Wiscombe Champion Craig Moore battled with Tim Porter for supremacy in the Rally Car Class.

The former, from Lyme Regis, was the quickest in practice but came the afternoon he had no answer to the Porter's well driven Ford Escort.

Porter went on to claim the class honours with a time of 51.29 seconds, just under seven tenths of a second up on Moore.

The much anticipated battle for the overall victory between Rod Thorne (Pilbeam MP58) and Terry Graves (Gould GR37) took an interesting twist.

Graves left his braking too late and took to the escape road at the Martini hairpin on his first timed run when he was chasing Thorne's time of 44.26 seconds.

On their second visit to the hill it was the MP58 driver who left the course between The Gate and The Esses which left the road clear for Graves.

However, the Launceston driver was unable to match Thorne's earlier pace and was forced to surrender the Channon Trophy to the Dorset driver.

SOGGY START FOR CRICKETERS

SEATON first XI began life in the D division at a picturesque ground at Countess Wear. Skipper Ben Morgan won the toss and asked the hosts to bat first on a damp wicket.

Opening bowlers Phil Collins and Mike Wheeler started well and kept things tight in the opening 10 overs.

Joe Berry replaced Collins and took two wickets early on for not many runs. Morgan replaced Wheeler and took a wicket in his first over. Berry and Morgan bowled well in tandem, as Countess Wear struggled to 70/7.

But they recovered to 143 all out as the Seaton bowlers lacked penetration at the crucial times.

Morgan claimed 6/35 whilst Berry took 2/30. The Seaton reply began positively with Waterhouse making it look easy. Once Waterhouse had gone, the old cricket cliché 'one brings two' was evident throughout the rest of the innings. On 3 occasions two wickets fell within two overs.

The inexperienced Seaton side struggled towards the total and were eventually all out for 140 after Andy Carter was bowled on the last ball.

Morgan said: "This is a learning curve for the boys, especially with two bizarre run outs. There were hopefully lessons learnt before next week's Saturday's visit by Feniton."

Countess Wear 143 (J Bogue 25, P Darke 19, I Irish 19; B Morgan 6-35, J Berry 2-30), Seaton 140 (J Waterhouse 25, A Hunt 22, R Maudsley 20; P Singh 5-30, A Nash 2-37). Countess Wear (17pts) bt Seaton (7) by 3 runs.

AXMINSTER's first team's start to the 2012 season didn't get off to the start that they would have hoped.

The Axe men's first game was an away trip down to Barton, relegated from the A division the previous season.

It was always going to be a hard game for Axminster, and the lack of pre-season training and friendly war-up matches due to weather didn't help matters.

Captain Paul Miller won the toss and asked the home side to bat first.

Barton's opening pair cruised to 70 without loss after 10 overs and a total of 270 or so was on the cards.

Nick Taylor and David Murnane were brought into the attack and quickly changed things and after 20 overs Barton were pegged back to 99 for 2. Taylor finished with 4 for 39 showing some great control with the ball.

But catching practice will be Millers orders this week as nine catches went to ground and the hosts finished on 216 for 6.

In reply, Axminster never got going with only Ryan Walker (34) scoring any considerable runs and extras adding 32 as they were dismissed for 135 with two overs left.

Next week Axminster host Thorverton at Cloakham Lawns.

Barton 216-6 (J Porter 73, S Needham 36, T Drake 26no, H Moores 24, A Parker 22; N Taylor 4-39), Axminster 135 (R Walker 34; J Porter 4-45, A Parker 2-8). Barton (20pts) bt Axminster (5) by 81 runs.

Axminster 2nd XI's first league game of the season brought the visit of Kentisbeare. Newly assigned Captain Sean Perry lost the toss and was asked to bat first on a soft wicket.

After a quick start with opening batsmen J.Swain (16), it was soon D.Bicknell's turn, striking a fast 20 followed by J.Farley (16).

After this stand, wickets started to fall quickly, with only Perry offering resistance with 25 as Axminster finished their innings on 113 all out.

An optimistic Axminster side went out looking for the win. D.Fuzzard took 4 for 26 but Kentisbeare escaped home.

Axminster II 113 (S Perry 25, D Bignall 20; Darling 4-36, Reed 3-23, P Hazledine 3-46); Kentisbeare II 117-7 (Reed 41; D Fuzzard 4-26, D Hayball 2-7). Kentisbeare II (17pts) bt Axminster II (4) by 3 wkts.

AXE CLIFF with Janet Dack

SENIORS

The Seniors travelled to Taunton for their second away fixture of the season against Taunton Vale. Despite the gloomy forecast and the threat of rain conditions were fine throughout. All the matches were close and in the final analysis the team lost narrowly 4-2.

Gilbert Cox & Bob Graham were Axe Cliff's sole winners but half points were gained by Tony Strong & Geoff Hubbard and Terry Jessup & Jack Bannister.

Thirty five members participated in the April Stableford last Friday, and in a tight finish, the winner was the Seniors' Captain Rob Grove (15) with 37 points.

Two players scored 36 points, and on countback, second place went to Dave Morgan (17) and third to Roger Hill (18). There were two 2s from Sid Pember and John White.

LADIES SECTION

This Wednesday in good conditions the ladies competed for the Centenary Niblick combined with an 18-hole Stableford. The winner of the Niblick was Lady Captain Barbara Cummings with Helen Kenworthy winning the Stableford.

HONITON with Andy Wagner

TUESDAY MIXED

THE recent Chivers Goblets competition (Greensome Stableford) involved playing partners drawn out of the hat. The April winners of the Goblets were Jan Dickinson & Allan Seager with 37pts.

In 2nd place were Ro Poole & Dave Morgan with 35pts and in 3rd place were Lady Captain Jackie Seager & Mike Watts with 34pts on count back.

SENIORS SECTION

The seniors played a Murphy's competition on a fairly wet course, but at least no one got too wet.

This format is rather unforgiving as it is scored as a Stableford, but with fewer points awarded. For a nett par the reward is zero, a bogey scores minus two and it will be seen that it is only too easy to build up a large negative score.

This did happen to more than a few players and there were only a dozen players with positive scores.

Jim Wallis won Division One with a score of six, Dave Maggs made four, Ted Chandler three, just edging out Captain John Discombe on countback, and the last prize was taken by Chris Street.

Division Two was led by Mike Jones with an impressive 12 points and Norman Fleet made eight. The other prizes were taken by Dave Morgan, Steve Blundell and Don Leach.

Sixty seven seniors turned up to play in what the Captain called 'A boring old Stableford' on May 4th.

It was a change from some of the more exotic forms of play the seniors have tried this year but it was not a high scoring day.

Only four players managed to a below-handicap score. Pete Morgan won the first division with 39 points, followed by Keith Crane on 37. John Martin, Angus Falconer and Malcolm Matthews filled the other prize positions.

The second division was led by Howard Clayton on 39 points, Dave Price had 37 and Steve Blundell, Bob Underwood and Ron Jones took the other prizes.

LADIES SECTION

TWO competitions were run side by side this week. The Ping Competition was won by Jane Watts & Tricia Swindell with 33 points with runners up Jackie Seager & Sue Ritchie on 32 points.

The 4BBB Stableford, a combined division competition, brought victory for Diana Gee & Elizabeth Davies with 35 points, followed by Tricia Swindell & Jane Watts with 33 points.

Third and fourth places went to Jackie Seager & Sue Ritchie, and Elizabeth Ward & Mona Carter, separated only on count back, both pairs gaining 32 points.

■ CHEERS: Goblet winners Jan Dickinson and Alan Seager.

point-to-point Axe Vale

THE Axe Vale Point-to-Point meeting which was cancelled last week has been rearranged for Saturday, May 26th.

As well as the racing, there will be a '65 years of racing' exhibition in a marquee adjacent to the sponsors tent and prizes for the best dressed lady and gentleman.

running Axe Valley

OVER the years running races have evolved and many new ones are now multi terrain, whereas there used to be many road races writes Dave Mutter.

One reason for the road races demise is the cost of policing events has skyrocketed along with entry costs. However, one race has bucked the trend, and on Sunday celebrated its 28th year – the Great West Run Half Marathon.

Arguably Exeter's premier road race, once again it was well supported both by runners and the fantastic crowds and bands en route. The "Running Community" is a term often bandied about and on Sunday it was just that with young and old encouraging each other to the finish line.

There were some fine efforts in the race with Bristol AC's Shaun Antell powering around to win in 1:10:37. Tim Sibley had a target of 1:40 and was delighted to beat it, finishing 196th out of 1,669 in 1:37:48.

A good time over a very undulating course and it was also a PB for the first 10K of 45:30. A good young contingent of Matt Morbey, Sam White and James Sibley ran together for most of the race representing Axe Valley Community College, but split towards the end with Matt 447th, 1:46:22; Sam 576th, 1:50:18 and James 628th, 1:51:54.

Special congratulations to James who must have been the youngest runner as it was his 17th birthday and you have to be at least 17 to run. Dave Mutter was hoping for sub 2 hours and produced the goods finishing 660th in 1:52:54.

The Great West 5K was held earlier in the day and Ali Chapman ran well to be 85th in 34:05 and many congratulations to Harry Moore for winning the over 70s title and he was the oldest competitor at 79 years young.

Harry finished 112th in 44:42 and hopes to run the "Black Death" run next week to celebrate his 80th birthday.

Geoff Woodward and Steve Reynolds travelled up to Wiltshire for the Neolithic Marathon. The run, which starts in Avebury and finishes at Stonehenge, is mostly off road with the first half on grassy tracks and fields and the second half being mostly stony tank tracks. The lads had to decide whether to wear on or off road trainers and decided to go for road shoes.

This seemed to be the wrong decision for the first five miles which had many muddy sections but paid off on the second-half. Geoff finished in 3hrs 50mins with Steve finishing in 4hrs 2mins.

Many AVRs enjoyed the delights of the Honiton Hippo, a tough Multi-terrain race with Roughly 7 miles of Mud, Sweat and Tears, with the odd hill and 4 rivers thrown in too for good measure. Despite still having the London Marathon in his legs Alex Todd was the first AVR home, 5th overall in 52:45.

Eleanor Wood was 2nd lady, 27th overall in 1:03:54. Despite his skittleitis, Chris Driver ran well to be 31st in 1:05:03. Mark Hilder was 35th, 1:06:17; Ian Clements 36th, 1:06:24 and Martin Croad 39th, 1:06:48.

Richard Hale was 49th in 1:09:29 and won the over 60 title – most likely because Graham Newton chaperoned his sister around.

Mike Giles was 71st, 1:19:27, then Graham Newton and Janet Callum joint 95th in 1:31:14. Emily Croton was 99th, 1:32:51. Janet Woodward and Gill Day ran together, finishing joint 104th in 1:35:36 and Diane Newton was 109th, 1:39:40.

There was also a 1.75 mile Calf run in which Ethan Day was the only junior AVR competitor. All the AVR gang thoroughly enjoyed their morning in the sun and thank Honiton RC for such a muddy beautiful race.

WHAT a disrupted time for the summer season – having had a break for Easter the season was further disrupted due to weather and a week was lost writes Graham Ingram.

The postponements continued this week when the 8pm games had to be cancelled due to torrential rain – but fortunately the 7 pm games had been played!

JD Tyres were up against Howden Hawks and looking for their first win of the season.

They started the game with a two goal advantage and at quarter time were 19-13 ahead.

With Amy Philips playing well they were still six goals ahead at half way – by 25-19.

In the third period Hawks had the better of the game with Meg Falkner pushing the team on, and they came back to just two goals behind at 30-32.

The final quarter went goal for goal with JD nagging on to their lead to pick up their first victory by 41-39 and jump to sixth place in the league, leaving Howden at the foot of the table.

The other game of the evening saw Pixies up against Sidmouth Toucans – with both teams starting the game all square.

Pixies were 16-15 up at quarter time before Toucans moved ahead by half way to lead 26-20.

With Anna Rowson playing well, the Toucans increased their lead to 34-24 at the start of the final quarter.

The final period went goal for goal with Rachel Edwards the pick of the Pixies, but with Sidmouth winning by 37-27 to move up to fourth place.

Scores: Howden Hawks (10) 39 JD Tyres (12) 41, Pixies (12) 27 Sidmouth Toucans (12) 37.

ON THE SPOT...

Q How long have you been involved in local football? Who have you played for?

A I have been played local football for about 11 years now.

Q Name the three best players you've played alongside and why.

A The three best players who I have played with are; David O'Conner, Andrew Jones and Andrew Rose. All three players could turn a game instantly, and are good people to have in your team.

Q What's the best away ground you've played at?

A It would have to Budleigh Salterton FC's Greenway Lane Ground.

Q Have any games stuck in your memory?

A The game that sticks in my mind the most was winning the Morrison Bell Cup against Sidmouth Town. Jock McGrath was the manager at the time, it was ten years since we last won it and the previous 'oap' winners came to watch the game! It was a good day.

Q How would you improve things at Feniton FC?

A I would improve things by keeping local players - sometimes money can ruin a team...

Q Name some young players we should look out for in the future.

A Ben Allen, Charlie Selly and Paul Dowling are all really good now, and will get even better.

NEXT WEEK: Axminster Town FC legend

Self steps down as the Tigers hunt new first team manager

AXMINSTER Town manager Ray Self is stepping down from his position at the helm of the South-West Peninsula League Division One (East) outfit.

Long-serving club stalwart Self replaced the previous management team of Kevin Turner and Nick Ogden at the end of last season but couldn't lift the team out of the lower reaches of the Division One.

Axminster had a tough time in the season that is all-but completed, winning just two of their 32 league matches and occupying the bottom spot for much of the campaign.

But there are sure to be exciting times ahead. The club will be ground sharing with Ottery St Mary at their Washbrook Meadow Ground while a £2M purpose-built facility on Chard Road is prepared in time for the 2013-14 season.

By Howard Larcombe
howard@pemedi.co.uk

Self will however continue in his role as Chairman/Treasurer of the Tigers over the busy period, he said: "We, as a club, are testing the waters to see who is out there, and would be interested - we will be exploring all options that arise."

"We believe a number of ex-players will be returning for next season, so we should be in much better shape."

Tough season

"It was a tough season. But we achieved our ambition which was to get through the season with two teams completing their fixtures - which we did."

"There are good people involved in this club and we are all optimistic about the future, as the saying goes 'out of adversity...'"

"I would like to remain involved with one team or another. I have discussed with Micky Walsh, our Youth Development Officer, about the possibility of utilising the floodlights at Ottery and entering an Under 17/18s team in the county youth league."
